

External Stepped Panel Joint

To produce an external joint on a stepped panel you will need to butt the two pieces together standing up on a flat surface.

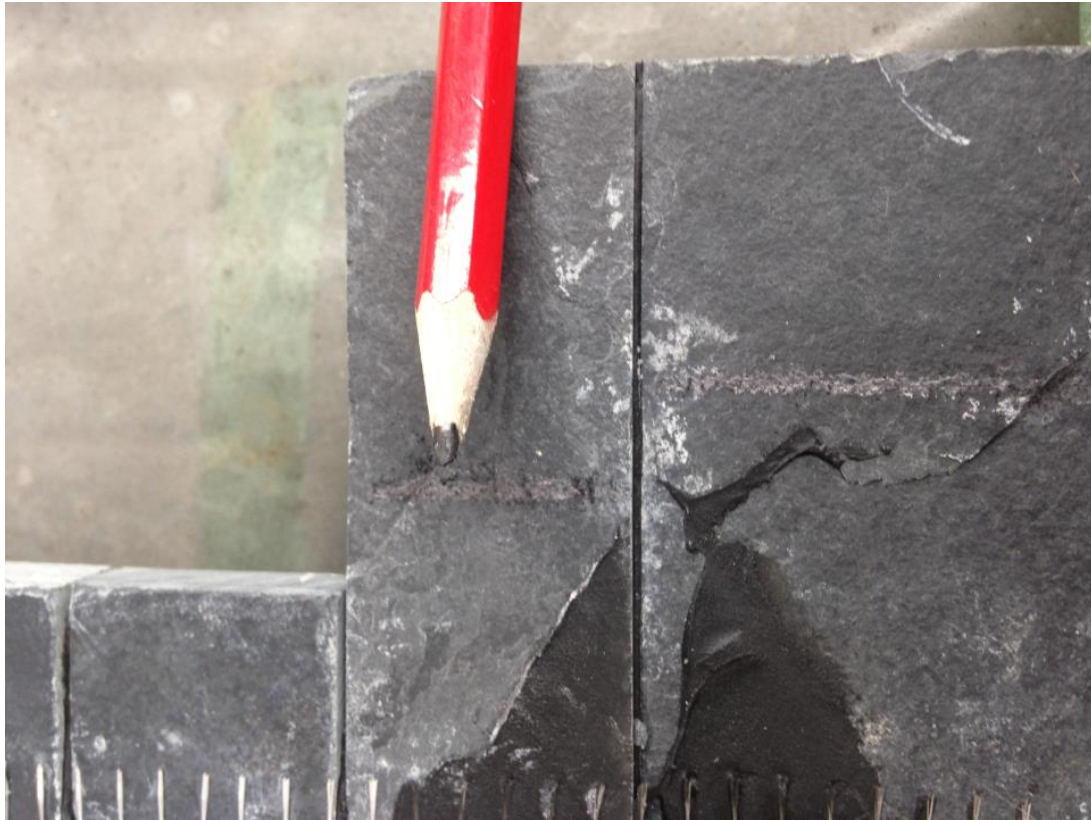

Next you will need to mark the rear of the panels for where you need to cut.

Where to cut on the rear of the panel; note the different pencil marks on the separate strips as each strip is cut separately.

Finished article after raw cutting.

